

New scores deliver significant funding increases for non-government schools with low-income families